They Were Destroyed

Testifies Most of Records Senators Wanted Are Gone

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reginald (Reg) Mikesell, secretary-treasurer of Portland, Ore., Joint Teamsters Council No. 37, testified today that most of the financial records wanted by Senate rackets investigators have been destroyed.

Mikesell was the first witness called on the 10th hearing day of the investigations into an alleged plot by some Teamsters Union bosses, public officials and underworld elements to control Portland vice profits.

Mikesell said that most financial records of Council No. 37 for the period from mid-1954 to mid-1956 have been destroyed — "to make more office space."

He said financial records for the period from 1937 to 1954 were intact.

The committee expected to put William M. Langley, Multnomah County (Portland) district attorney, on the witness stand later as the day's major witness. Langley has been linked to the alleged plot in testimony from earlier witnesses.

Mikesell also said most of the union's correspondence files have been destroyed.

The alleged attempt by Teamster officials to "muscle in" on Portland rackets embraced the period from mid-1954 to mid-1956.

James B. (Big Jim) Elkins, described by the committee as the Portland "underworld king," has testified that two Seattle gamblers, Tom Maloney and Joe McLaughlin, were sent to Portland in connection with the alleged effort.

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said it seemed "you just destroyed the records that might have some effect on the hearings."

Mikesell said that was not his motive.

Goldwater said the destruction of the records meant destruction also of matter that would show "all this money that was paid out to Tom Maloney."

In Portland, Elkins and an employee, Raymond F. Clark, were

Israel Keeps Right to Fight

Ben-Gurion Gives Warning On Handling of Gaza Strip

JERUSALEM (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion told the Israeli Parliament today that his government reserves its "freedom of action" if the Egyptians return to the Gaza Strip.

It was Ben-Gurion's first comment since Egypt announced it was resuming control of the disputed Mediterranean coastal area. The tough old Israeli leader who ordered Israel's blitz invasion of Egypt last October warned that if "the time comes when action is appropriate and necessary, the Israel government will not, of course, give prior notice of its actions."

The Gaza Strip, Ben-Gurion told the Knesset, never belonged to the Egyptians and was "of use to them only for the purpose of attacks or threats against Israel."

In Cairo, U.N. officials and the Egyptians appeared to be moving toward a compromise providing for Egypt to handle the civil administration in Gaza while U.N. troops police the Israeli-Gaza border.

Israel withdrew from Gaza last week on the assumption that the U.N. Emergency Force would administer the strip and that Egyptian control would not be reimposed.

U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche and Egyptian President Nasser met for the first time to discuss the Gaza crisis.

Bunche talked for an hour and a half with Nasser, then told newsmen the U.N. Emergency Force would cooperate fully with the Egyptian administration in the Gaza Strip.

Ben-Gurion spoke in reply to a deputy asking assurance the Israeli government would take "all political and security steps" to prevent the return of an Egyptian regime to the Gaza Strip.

For the present, the Premier said, Israel is trying to head off an Egyptian return to Gaza by "political measures." He did not specify these, but Ambassador Abba Eban hurried back to Washington from a Florida vacation to confer with U.S. officials.

Ben-Gurion expressed surprise at Bunche's earlier statement that the U.N. troops are in Gaza with Egyptian consent.

Navy Planes Search Pacific For AF Tanker

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. Navy planes combed the Western Pacific today, seeking a U.S. Air Force tanker plane missing with 10 crewmen aboard.

In central Japan a four-man Air Force medical team parachuted to a mountain spot about four miles from what was believed to be the wreckage of a missing C-47 transport. Four men had been aboard the C-47.

The aerial tanker, a KB50, left Yokota Air Base just west of Tokyo last night and was scheduled to reach Wake 7 1/2 hours later. The Air Force announced it was missing after it reckoned all its fuel was gone and no report was received of its landing.

The wreckage believed that of the missing transport was spotted 9,000 feet up on a 9,500-foot mountain about 200 miles northwest of Tokyo. Aerial spotters saw no sign of life about the plane.

Helicopters were sent to help but the Air Force said heavy snow probably would prevent the medical team reaching the wreckage before Thursday.

School Board Will Submit Same Levy

No Increase Made; Will Be Included In April Election

The Sedalia Board of Education voted to submit the same levy at the April 2 election, at its meeting Tuesday night. The levy for the past year has been $2.26. The voters will vote on $1.10 of the total.

Under state law, the board is allowed to assess a $1 levy plus an amount necessary to take care of the sinking and interest fund. Any amount over this must be approved by the voters each year.

Other action of the board included the payment of $15,430.76 in bills for the month of February and the acceptance of the low bid for election supplies.

Action was also taken to allow students whose parents have moved to housing at Whiteman Air Force Base in the Sedalia schools for the remainder of the year without paying tuition. Approximately 26 students will be living at the base.

The board also voted to pay the tuition of Bobby Kehl to Smithton High School. This action was taken due to the fact that the youth is crippled and Smith-Cotton is not equipped to provide classes for him. This action was also approved by the State Board of Education.

The resignation of Estella Plater at the Hubbard cafeteria was accepted and Alberta President was approved as replacement.

A resolution was passed calling for the election of two board members. The terms of Harry Brougher and Vincent Siegel expire this year.

Senate Provide For Watershed Conservation

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—New watershed protection districts could be formed in Missouri under a bill reported favorably by the Senate Agricultural Committee today.

The districts would be part of existing soil conservation districts. They could accept federal grants under a new small watershed program and could levy a 4-mill tax to maintain the small dams and other control structures.

Farmers on 65 per cent of the land in the subdistrict would have to approve before the plan could be put into operation. Originally the bill called for 50 per cent approval but the committee stiffened the requirement.

The Senate Judiciary Committee approved two proposed constitutional amendments.

One would permit new residents of Missouri to vote for president and vice president after living within the state less than a year.

The other would do away with a requirement that the state auditor must pre-audit state expenditures.

Also approved was a $50 a month pay increase for magistrate and probate court clerks and formation of a permanent study committee of five senators and five representatives to survey local government problems, especially in metropolitan areas.

Dr. Hironobu Watanabe of Niigata University said jet stream winds apparently carried radioactive particles from last week's test over Japan.

Schools Hold Third Annual E-B Program

Approximately 50 businessmen and civic leaders attended the third annual Education-Business Day held Tuesday by the public and parochial schools of Sedalia in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce.

This is the all-school tour when businessmen see their schools in action and learn about policies, personnel, curricula and methods, buildings, equipment, finances and organization.

In order to accommodate the group two tours were conducted. One was the east tour which started at 10:30 a.m. and visited the schools in that section of the city.

Both tours ended at Smith-Cotton for lunch in the cafeteria there at 1:15 p.m. Both groups were then conducted through the high school.

Schools visited on the east tour were Broadway, St. Patrick's, Jefferson, Washington and Whittier. The west tour visited Hubbard, Sacred Heart, Mark Twain and Horace Mann.

Plans for the day were made by the Rev. A. J. Brunswick, Sacred Heart School principal, the Rev. J. T. Nolan, St. Patrick's School principal, and Dr. Heber U. Hunt, superintendent of the public schools.

At the end of the tour the groups were assembled at Smith-Cotton where questions were answered by members of the Board of Education and school officials.

The businessmen were also entertained by a quartet from the Smith-Cotton music department. Members of the quartet were Tony Walch, Bob Walch, Don Edde and Bob Kreeger.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A freshman state legislator was displeased today when the House whacked off funds for an alcohol education program in public schools.

Bill on Homes Is Made Law

Governor Pens Signature; Hails Bill as Progressive

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair signed a broad new nursing home bill into law today and hailed it as "a great forward step for Missouri."

He said it would lead to proper regulation of nursing homes for the first time.

"It will save money, save lives and most important will provide a great opportunity to help older citizens of Missouri who have found it necessary to live in these nursing homes..." he said.

"All Missourians ought to be grateful to the Legislature for this fine forward step."

Looking on as the governor signed the bill at 11:05 a.m. were Sen. Albert M. Spradling (D) of Cape Girardeau, who introduced it; Rep. Warren M. Hearness (D) of Mississippi County, who handled it in the House, and Mrs. Evelyn G. Stone, Democratic representative from St. Louis and executive secretary of the Missouri Assn. of Nursing and Allied Homes.

Mrs. Stone predicted the new law would be an important factor in improving patient care. She said Missouri becomes the first state to grant professional recognition to nursing homes.

The bill gives the State Division of Health broad new power to set up safety and health rules for nursing homes. It will go into effect immediately.

The governor gave it a personal push in its course through the Legislature after 72 persons died in a flash fire at the Katie Jane Nursing Home in Warrenton Feb. 17. The catastrophe was over in minutes but it set off a train of developments in an aroused state government.

Blair said his approval of the bill would be the signal for two immediate actions:

(1) Establishment of a new nursing home supervisory setup in the State Health Division, with a bigger staff, and,

(2) Putting a new code of fire safety standards into effect at once.

Both actions were impossible under the old, limited law. A bill similar to the new law was passed by the Legislature two years ago but it was ruled unconstitutional by the attorney general because the lawmakers put in so many exemptions for religious, charitable and other institutions.

He Promises His Help

President Says Congress Must Decide Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he will be as helpful as possible but it is up to Congress to determine how and whether the administration's $71,800,000,000 budget can be cut.

The President also told a news conference he has abandoned tentative plans to go to Florida for his health.

He said that instead he plans to leave probably tomorrow night for Bermuda by Navy cruiser.

Eisenhower will open four days of talks in Bermuda with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan March 21. The President said he plans a leisurely cruise to Bermuda.

Barring any last minute change in plans, Eisenhower will sail from Norfolk, Va., tomorrow night.

Eisenhower's remarks regarding budget cutting were in reply to a request for comment on House passage yesterday of a resolution asking the President to The resolution, merely a statement of the House's position, has no force of law. The vote was 219-178, with most Democrats for it and most Republicans against.

Asked what he plans to do about that House call for advice, Eisenhower said anew that he would have no objection to re-examining the budget, and added he will be just as helpful as he can in trying to find ways to cut spending.

But he went on to say it is Congress which authorizes specific projects and provides the money to finance them, and for that reason it is up to Congress to decide where any cuts should be made.

Eisenhower made one suggestion—that Congress move to eliminate the Post Office Department's deficit by providing for greater mail revenue.

point out where the administration's budget can be cut "substantially."

Traffic Toll Shows Rise

March came in like a lion for Missouri motorists this year. Accompanied by mild, early spring weather the first few days of the month carried the threat of a rising death toll on the state's highways. Last March 95 persons were killed. That was a record.

According to Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the State Highway Patrol, this March is not too far off the record-breaking pace of 1956.

However, Col. Waggoner said, January and February of this year ended with a total of 133 deaths.

At the corresponding period last year 154 persons had been killed in highway mishaps.

"There was a very noticeable improvement in the first two months of the year. For instance, traffic accidents in February of this year claimed 59 lives, well below the 75 deaths recorded for the same period in 1956," Col. Waggoner stated.

The record of 74 deaths in January, while not impressive, still was an improvement over the 80 for January of 1956.

There was also a welcomed reduction in the number of pedestrian deaths, the Patrol Chief noted. So far this year there have been 17 walkers killed in traffic accidents, while last year at the same time there were 30.

"I hope the reduction in traffic deaths this year means that drivers are beginning to realize the dangers of driving, and—what's more important—they are using more common sense and good judgment," Col. Waggoner said, adding:

"If we can keep the death toll down this spring—when the roads will be crowded with more cars—then I'll say the state's motorists are doing better than they have in the past. Right now, though, I'll reserve my optimism."

Tests Cold Vaccine

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A vaccine against virus-produced colds is being tested on 10,000 soldiers, says Maj. Gen. James P. Cooney, deputy surgeon general of the Army.

"On the first 300 recruits, the vaccine showed a 90 per cent efficiency," Cooney told an alumni convention of the College of Medical Evangelists.

The vaccine is being developed, he said, in an effort to knock out a specific virus that affects 8 out of 10 recruits each winter. If the tests prove successful, he added, the vaccine will be made available to civilians.

Three Bomb Scares Cause Many Delays

NEW YORK (AP)—Three bomb scares yesterday and last night caused three major airlines to search 32 planes in 10 cities in the East, Midwest and South. No bomb was found but some 800 passengers encountered delays of up to an hour.

Trans World Airlines had 28 planes searched in a four-hour period after receiving a hoax call at its Manhattan ticket office in early afternoon.

Twenty-two of the planes were searched at New York's two airports, Idlewild and LaGuardia, and at Newark, N.J.

Another six planes were ordered out of the air and told to land at their nearest airports. These planes set down at Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Cleveland.

TWA officials swung into action after an anonymous young male caller telephoned this threat:

"There's a bomb on your plane. You better get it off." Then the caller hung up.

Since no particular plane was singled out as the bomb target, TWA officials took all precautions. American Airlines, on the basis of a telephoned threat received by its Philadelphia office, had one of its twin-engine Conquairs searched as it landed here last night on a flight from Boston. A woman caller said 12 sticks of dynamite had been placed on an American Conquair flying from Boston to New York.

Three Delta Airlines planes were searched last night at Newark, Houston, Tex., and Charlotte, N.C. The airline reported it had received a telephoned bomb threat at its Philadelphia office, saying that a bomb was aboard a plane bound for Newark.

Effort Is Made To Hatch Chicks At South Pole

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—That first batch of eggs was a fizzle but Lt. R. J. Adams hasn't slackened his effort to make history down around the South Pole.

Adams, a dentist with the Navy detachment in the antarctic, said his trouble was due to the "humidity factor" on his makeshift incubator. That's been fixed.

In about eight days, the lieutenant from Memphis expects the second batch to turn up at least one chick—the first ever born at Little America. Adams is a member of the U.S. expedition that is participating in the International Geophysical Year.

This late report on one of the expedition's lesser activities was given last night by Bob Grice of Hubbard, Tex., in a radio chat from the South Polar regions with the Commercial Appeal. A ham radio operator was the intermediary.

"With any luck at all we ought to have a baby chicken here at Little America," said Grice. "We started this as a joke and then got into it over our heads. By George, we're determined about it."

"Lt. Adams is directing but he has some commissioners on the sidelines giving help and advice."

The last batch of eggs to hit the incubator, two dozen, came off the icebreaker North Wind, which brought them from New Zealand.

The new eggs haven't led so hard a life as the first batch, which were flown over and para-

Quaker College In Controversy Over US Grants

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP)—Haverford College, a Quaker institution, is involved in a controversy over whether to accept Defense Department grants for nonmilitary research.

Taking sides in the dispute are members of the faculty, the Board of Managers and the students at the 124-year-old school, avowedly the oldest Quaker-operated institution in the country.

Some feel acceptance of the grants would conflict with the Quaker philosophy of pacifism. Others say rejection of the money would prevent the college from making significant contributions to the sciences.

The problem came up when Dr. Robert L. Walter, 37-year-old assistant professor of chemistry, recently asked the Board of Managers for permission to apply to the Defense Department for a $14,000 grant. He wants the money to aid research in organic chemistry.

The board took up Walter's request but has deferred a decision. Since then two similar requests have been made by other faculty members.

Some 250 students, faculty members and board members attended a meeting at the suburban Philadelphia school this week to discuss the question.

No immediate decision is expected.

Rooster Is Prize Pet Of New Jersey Family

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Meet Pip, the peppy, perky, pecking rooster that is reputed to be the prize pet perhaps in all Jersey.

He belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Casper Zoppel, of nearby Stratford, who got him when he was only a tiny yellow puff, a casual premium given out with some purchases.

The Zoppels took a fancy to him and started his education. Now Pip is described as "amazing." His owners say that he perches on a special red leather seat and dines off a flowered dish on hamburger spread over crackers; that he walks—nothing so primitive as hopping—up the stairs, that he squires visitors to and from the house; and that if he likes you he unties your shoe laces.

Wants US and Spain To Swap War Prizes

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Count Don Jose M. de Arelliza, Spanish ambassador to the United States, has what he thinks is a good idea: Why doesn't the U. S. Naval Academy swap its treasured USS Reina Mercedes for three tattered American flags now in Spain.

The Reina is a Spanish cruiser captured in the Spanish-American War and used by the academy as a bachelor officers quarters. The flags were captured by Spain in the same war.

Academy officials had no comment.

Communist Editor Balks At Hearing

NEW YORK (AP)—John Gates, editor of the Communist newspaper Daily Worker today repeatedly cited the First and Fifth amendments in refusing to answer questions before the House Un-American Activities subcommittee.

Gates, barred yesterday from speaking at any of the city's five municipal colleges, scolded the committee as one that "would use any means to trap people into convictions on framed-up charges."

A witness before the committee yesterday said the Communist party membership has dropped to about 17,500 from a high of about 100,000.

The witness, John Lautner, now a government consultant on communism, gave the figures to the subcommittee which is holding the second of a four-day series of hearings on Communist publishing and propaganda.

Rep. Morgan M. Moulder (D-Mo.), who presided at the hearing, obviously annoyed at Gates' attitude, said:

"You referred to entrapment. Can you cite any specific case?"

"Yes, I can," replied Gates. "Eugene Dennis (Communist party secretary) for one, and there were many others."

"Were you framed when you were convicted under the Smith Act?" Moulder asked.

"I have been on occasion," Gates replied.

Gates was barred from speaking at the municipal colleges because he had served a prison term on his conviction on a Smith Act charge that he conspired to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Gates immediately invoked the First and Fifth amendments when he was asked where he was employed and whether he is now a member of the Communist party.

"Everyone knows where I am employed," Gates said. "All they have to do is pick up a newspaper and hear it on the radio, but I will not tell this committee, based on my rights under the First and Fifth amendments."

Bronx Schoolboy To Get Chance At TV Fortune

NEW YORK (AP)—A 10-year-old Bronx schoolboy, a whiz at science, gets first crack at winning a possible $256,000 on a television quiz show.

He's Robert Strom, whose knowledge of chemistry, physics, astrophysics, astronomy and other sciences is astounding.

Robert gave an example of his talent last night by collecting the top prize on the CBS "The $64,000 Question" to qualify for what the network calls "the world's biggest" TV quiz show prize.

Passau Serves As Way Back To Hungary

PASSAU, Germany — This Danube River city on the German-Austrian border has become the main crossing point for Hungarian refugees who want to return home.

They come here from France, Belgium, West Germany and other West European countries.

Theoretically, they are entitled to repatriation if they ask for it. In practice, it is almost impossible for them to go back legally. This is mainly because Austria, carrying the brunt of the refugee burden, fears that second-thinking repatriates may wind up in Austrian camps again instead of going home.

The homesick Hungarian refugee may apply for an Austrian transit visa. But the lists are long and he may have to wait for months. After a few frustrating days in the care of the Catholic Caritas welfare organization here, most try to go it alone.

What is driving them back? Welfare officials agree that in most cases it is homesickness, the yearning to be back in the fold of a family they have left behind.

A few disillusioned people are among them — those who had thought of the West as a sort of lazy, luxurious refuge. Others say the French tried to draft them into the Foreign Legion. Some complain that working conditions in Belgium's coal mines did not agree with them.

And there are those indoctrinated by Red agitators. German police are certain such agitators mingled with legitimate refugees in the great exodus.

Exact figures on those who have already returned are not available here. West German officials say about 1,000 Hungarian refugees in Germany have asked to be repatriated.

Says Nation Is Losing War On Traffic Toll

CHICAGO — The nation is losing the war on traffic accidents, a safety authority said today.

He suggested that the know-how and resources of business and industry may well be the secret weapon to win the fight.

"The nation has turned to business and industry for special effort time after time when wars have seemed to be going against us," said Paul Jones of the National Safety Council, "and never have business and industry failed to come through."

"Well, the war on traffic accidents is going against us, and the last year has brought severe reverses. So it is only natural that the nation once again should turn to business and industry to help pull us out of the hole."

Deaths on the nation's highways last year were estimated at 40,000, one of the highest in history, said Jones in a prepared speech to the Office Management Assn. of Chicago.

Jones, the council's director of public information, said that nearly twice as many Americans have been killed in traffic accidents than in all of the country's wars—including the Revolution.

Knife, Fork Club Guest Speaker Is E. R. Palmer

Out in Loveland, Colo., folks didn't wait for an election to better their living conditions. They didn't wait for anything. They just banded themselves together and said, "We're going to have a better town"—and they have it.

Now they are reaping the benefits. A city without crime, a city without school problems, a city where the groceries and clothing actually cost less, and where people are living the "life of Riley" on a lot less than it costs in other places.

At least that's the story of E. Robert Palmer, guest speaker at the next dinner meeting of the Sedalia Knife and Fork Club, which will be held at Bothwell Hotel at 7 o'clock Friday night.

Stassen May Soon Resign His Aide Post

WASHINGTON — Harold E. Stassen leaves today for London and talks which may be his swan song as President Eisenhower's special assistant for disarmament.

He is representing the United States at a meeting of the United Nations Disarmament Commission's subcommittee. There have been persistent reports that he plans to quit his post when that meeting ends.

Stassen denied these reports March 1, but at the same time, he declined to comment on other reports that he is thinking about running for governor of Pennsylvania next year.

At 50, Stassen is both a young man politically and a veteran politician. Aside from carrying on his disarmament responsibilities, he is known to be wrestling with a personal decision on his political future.

His friends say he has not yet decided whether to run for Republican nomination as governor of Pennsylvania or stay on as Eisenhower's disarmament aide or in some other Washington capacity.

Stassen, onetime "boy" governor of Minnesota and later president of the University of Pennsylvania, long has nurtured presidential ambitions.

He fell out of political favor among the Eisenhower administration faithful last year. He fought virtually a one-man campaign to knock Vice President Nixon off the Eisenhower ticket. His effort was a resounding failure.

Since then, his disarmament office has been moved into the State Department, and although he retains his title he takes policy direction from Secretary Dulles rather than consulting directly with Eisenhower.

Canine Caper

BRISTOL, Conn. — Andrew Miller, Jr., lost control of his truck. It veered off the highway and struck a garage, damaging a car inside.

Miller told police his dog had jumped onto the seat and playfully bit his ear and that he lost control of the vehicle while attempting to brush the animal away.

Singer Receives Box of Candy Containing Glass

HOLLYWOOD — Police said today that someone sent a box of chocolates to blues singer Dinah Washington that could have proved fatal had she eaten them.

The chocolates contained slivers of glass.

The 32-year-old Negro singer, appearing at Zardi's here, only learned about the chocolates yesterday, Detective Sgt. Mark Nolan said.

She had received the 1 1/2-pound box through the mail two days ago and gave them to a friend, Mrs. Ann Moore. Mrs. Moore bit into one of the chocolates, discovered the glass and returned the box to Miss Washington who called police.

Enclosed with the candy was a typewritten note:

"My tail is short as you can see, goodbye to you from me." It was signed "Yasha."

Miss Washington said she had no idea who the sender could be. U.S. postal inspectors have been called into the case, police said.

Jack Gordon, Zardi's manager, said the nightclub features white and Negro jazz musicians and singers. Audiences also are mixed, he said. He scoffed at any idea that the plot was aimed at Miss Washington because of her race.

Minneapolis Again Into Headlines

By The Associated Press

When the Minneapolis Lakers were consistent champions of the National Basketball Assn., a few years ago loyal hometown folks referred to their city as "the basketball capital of the world."

The glory days passed, but pro basketball headlines pointed to the Minnesota city again yesterday.

First, league headquarters in New York announced a complicated preliminary playoff setup that hinged on the Lakers winning two games. Then came the news that local investors had raised enough money to keep the Lakers in Minneapolis and voided a deal that would have sent them to Kansas City for the 1938 season. Finally, the Lakers traveled over the bridge to St. Paul and whipped Philadelphia 100-94.

If the Lakers take Philadelphia again tonight (the last night of the regular season) at Minneapolis, Fort Wayne beats Syracuse and St. Louis loses to Rochester, then there will be a three-way tie for first place in the Western Division. It would then be played off this way:

St. Louis would entertain Fort Wayne March 14, and the winner would meet the Lakers for first place battle would be at Minneapolis March 15, but if St. Louis won, the Hawks would host team March 16.

If Minneapolis and Fort Wayne tie for second place, then the Lakers would entertain the Pistons March 14.

The Laker franchise was sold conditionally to baseball figure Marty Marion and his business partner Milton Fischmann of St. Louis three weeks ago but that transaction was not to be effective if Minneapolis interests were able to match the $150,000 purchase price. They made it yesterday—a day ahead of schedule.

Clyde Lovellette led the Lakers victory over the Warriors, scoring 25 points as Minneapolis won its sixth straight.

Harris Starts Well for That Same Old Job

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Smooth-swimming Gail Harris, who perennially tries to win a first base job with the New York Giants, again is off to a blazing spring start.

This time, the 25-year-old Harris, who yesterday delivered the second winning blow and has driven across 12 runs in four Giant exhibition games, may be ready.

"I'm more relaxed than I've ever been and I'm not pressing," said Harris after his three-run homer in the ninth gave the Giants a 9-8 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles. It was his second homer of the game and third of the cactus league campaign.

Harris, who batted .270 and belted 24 homers for Minneapolis of the American Assn. last season, slashed a bases-loaded single in the 10th to win for the Giants Sunday, also by a 9-8 count over the Cleveland Indians.

The first sacker from Abingdon, Va., now hitting .500 with 8 hits in 16 trips could be a big help in Manager Bill Rigney's effort to hoist the Giants out of their sixth-place National League berth.

Rigney has a crying need for a cleanup batter to hit behind brilliant Willie Mays in the No. 3 spot. Rigney already has tested big Hank Sauer and Dusty Rhodes in the No. 4 batting position, but it looks like the job may be going for quite a spell. Gail could be the man.

Harris has been batting fifth and twice now has slammed a lead across five runs in a game. He did it yesterday with his pair of homers and also on Sunday against the Indians with a homer and two singles.

"Gail has as much strength to hit for distance as anybody on the club, except Willie Mays," said Rigney.

Chalcedon, now famous as a sire, won the Pimlico Special twice and also won the Futurity and the Preakness over the Baltimore track.

Cunningham Makes Bid for Card Position In Victory Over A's

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Young Joe Cunningham is making a strong bid to become Stan Musial's stand-in at first base for the St. Louis Cardinals this season.

The 24-year-old Cunningham made several brilliant saves in the field at first base yesterday and highlighted a six-run seventh inning with a three-run double as the Redbirds beat the Kansas City A's, 12-4, for their third grapefruit league victory in four starts.

A leg injury slowed Cunningham down last season in spring training and he failed to make the club after an outstanding finish at the tail-end of the 1935 season.

Canisius Has Eye on Record Of Tar Heels

The Associated Press

Powerful North Carolina was on its way to Philadelphia today to resume the hectic NCAA basketball tournament struggle and boasting a 28-0 record that dangerous little Canisius College would love to smash.

The Tar Heels, the nation's No. 1 team, turned on the gas in the second half last night to thump Yale's Ivy League champions in the first round of the Eastern NCAA regionals at New York 90-74.

Canisius, of Buffalo, N.Y., humbled West Virginia, the Southern Conference champs, 64-56. Syracuse marched past Connecticut 82-76 in other games on the Madison Square Garden triple-header.

At Columbus, Ohio, Notre Dame racked up its 10th straight victory by clipping Miami (Ohio) 89-77, while the Pittsburgh Panthers took a last-gasp verdict from Morehead (Ky.) 86-95 in the Midwest regionals.

One contest was played in the West regional, with Oklahoma City University trouncing Loyola of New Orleans 76-55 at Oklahoma City.

This completed a field of 16 teams for the next phase of the annual college scramble Friday night. The Friday winners tangle Saturday, with four teams surviving for the semifinals and finals at Kansas City March 22 and 23.

Here's the pairings for Friday: Philadelphia, East regional—Lafayette (22-3) vs. Syracuse (17-6) and North Carolina (28-2) vs. Canisius (21-5).

Lexington, Midwest regional—Kentucky (22-4) vs. Pitt (16-9) and Notre Dame (19-7) vs. Michigan State (15-7).

Dallas, West regional—St. Louis (19-7) vs. Oklahoma City (18-8) and Kansas (21-2) vs. Southern Methodist (21-3).

Corvallis, Far West regional—Brigham Young (18-8) vs. California (20-4) and Idaho State (25-2) vs. San Francisco (18-6).

Meanwhile, the NAIA Tournament at Kansas City enters the second round with 16 teams headed by top-seeded Pacific Lutheran still alive.

First-round play was completed yesterday with Pacific Lutheran downing Elon 76-61.

A's Pitching Hope Bolstered by Rookie, Veteran's Exhibition

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Kansas City pitching prospects were bolstered somewhat yesterday by the work of veteran Alex Kellner and rookie Gene Host.

Kellner allowed the St. Louis Cardinals only two hits in three innings and Host gave up but one. One of the blows off Kellner, however, was a two-run homer by Wally Moon.

The A's bowed to the Cards 12-4 when poor control by Wally Burnette and George Brunet yielded a total of 9 runs.

Kansas City outfielder Harry Simpson made a brief appearance in yesterday's game but was removed early because of a sore throwing arm. The ailment was believed to be only minor.

The A's play St. Louis again today with Tom Morgan and Rip Coleman slated to handle mound chores.

Cubs May Shift Star Shortstop to First

MESA, Ariz., (AP)—Ernie Banks, star shortstop for the Chicago Cubs the last three years, might find himself at first base this season.

Talk of shifting Banks began last summer when rookie Jerry Kindall filled in at shortstop capably while Banks was nursing a sore hand.

Ernie is suffering from a sore shoulder and hasn't been able to throw so far this spring. Banks is in Los Angeles receiving treatment and will rejoin the Cubs Friday when they reach Los Angeles.

That's when Ernie might be shifted to first base if he has trouble making the long throw from short.

Clem Labine set a Brooklyn Dodger record by appearing in 62 National League games in 1936.

AND HOW ARE THINGS IN THE WORLD OF SPORT?

Manager Says Indians Can Humble Yanks

The Cleveland Indians refuse to subscribe to the popular belief that the New York Yankees only have to show up to win the American League race again.

When asked the other day if maybe he didn't think the Yanks would win the pennant, rookie Manager Kerby Farrell barked: "I do not. I concede the Yanks nothing. They have to beat us to win it and you can bet we'll give them a fight."

Farrell has no worries about his front-line pitchers. Three of them loosened up in yesterday's 8-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs at Tucson, Ariz. Bob Lemon gave up only one hit in the first three innings. Then Art Houtteman yielded three in the middle three and Don Misse held the Cubs to two in the final three.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, always hot during the exhibition season, won their fourth game without a defeat by turning back the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4, at Tampa, Philadelphia and Boston each broke into the win column, the Phillies licking the Washington Senators 4-2 at Clearwater and the Red Sox defeating the Yanks 1-0 at St. Petersburg.

The Red Sox, who have yet to show any punch, beat the Yanks on a fluke run in the 13th inning. With two out and the bases loaded Bill Skowron, being tried at third base on an experiment by Manager Casey Stengel, stumbled after fielding an easy grounder. When he recovered, all hands were safe and Jim Piersall had scored.

In other games, the St. Louis Cardinals, behind home runs by Wally Moon and Del Ennis, blasted the Kansas City A's at Palm Beach 12-4; the Milwaukee Braves blanked the Detroit Tigers 1-0 with Frank Torre driving in the only run; the New York Giants won a 9-8 slugfest from the Baltimore Orioles on Gail Harris' three-run homer in the ninth inning; and the Brooklyn Dodgers whipped the Chicago White Sox 8-4.

Young Middleweight Sees Chance at Title In Bout With Webb

CHICAGO (AP)—Wilf Greaves, a young middleweight with limited experience, has his sights set on Gene Fullmer's title and figures the best way to meet the champion is by beating fourth-ranked Spider Webb in a 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium tonight.

Greaves, of Pittsburgh, who has had only 14 professional fights, is subbing for Randy Sandy, who injured his left hand in training.

Webb, one of Chicago's brightest fistic prospects, has come along quickly since he left the Army a year ago. A member of the 1932 Olympic team, Spider has lost once in 21 pro fights and is riding a string of 10 straight victories, including 12 knockouts.

Greaves, 21, has an 8-5-1 record. Webb is a 3-1 favorite.

Golf Gains Popularity In Japan

NEW YORK (AP)—Ben Hogan ranks alongside Mickey Mantle as the idol of the Japanese sporting public, a returning American golf executive said today, and golf is gradually creeping up on baseball as the rage in the land of the rising sun.

"There are now some half a million golfers in Japan," said Fred Corcoran, tournament manager for the International Golf Ass., "and they play the game fanatically—and well. I was greatly impressed by the things I saw in that country."

Corcoran has just returned from Japan where he selected the Kasumigaseki Country Club Course, 30 miles from Tokyo as site of the fifth annual Canada Cup and international matches next Oct. 24-27.

Twenty-nine countries are expected to send their best two players to Japan for the tournament, a brainchild of industrialist John Jay Hopkins.

"Everywhere I went down there they asked me about Hogan," Corcoran said. "They were eager to hear about the size of the man they'd heard called 'Bantam Ben' and the 'Wee Wee Man.' Being small in stature themselves, they were intrigued that a small man should attain such greatness."

Hogan and Sam Snead made up the American team which won both the Canada Cup team championship and the international individual prize (Hogan won this one) at Wentworth, England, last year. The identity of the 1937 U. S. team is not yet known.

"The Japanese hit their shots without wasting time," Corcoran said. "The caddies are always out ahead, never lag. While one is at the green, the other heads for the next tee."

"They use largely American equipment but prefer the smaller English ball. They play by USGA rules. Their pros have to average 78 in a four-round test to qualify for the Japanese PGA and can't become members, like ours, by merely filling out a slip and paying dues."

"Baseball fever is redhot there, of course," said Corcoran. "They still talk about the power of Mickey Mantle, who visited there with the Yankees a couple of years ago. And if the Dodgers want to move—well, they'd have to go a long way to find better support than Tokyo."

In the early days of thoroughbred racing in England, Lord Glasgow refused to name his horses until they first proved themselves.

Mrs. Patricia Keller McCormick, 1936 Olympic and National AAU diving champion, won 27 diving crowns during her career.

Orton-Hagen In Riot

Night Terror Unmasked By Sonny Meyers

The "Night," "Mighty" or whatever you want to call him was unmasked Tuesday night by Sonny Meyers, the referee along with the assistance of Thor Hagen, of Minneapolis, after his match with Meyers Tuesday night. It was a task but the three removed it against the protests of the Mystery Man and nobody knew him anyway.

But it was Frank Hickey, Chicago, who originally hailed from Canada. He's a stranger in these parts as to his true identity, but his wrestling has been in and out of the territory several times in the past few years.

Trying to bolster his ability to wrestling supremacy, The Terror resorted to all kinds of uncalled tactics to win. He lost the first fall in 16 minutes and 45 seconds, when disqualified. Then in the second fall period Meyers turned the tables and clugged it out, using a series of drop kicks and won that fall in four minutes and 35 seconds much to the approval of the ring-siders.

In fact the Terror was not supposed to be unmasked because one fall was lost on disqualification. But Meyers was mad, so was the referee and when they started they had a little trouble until Hagen crawled through the ropes to give his assistance. There were a few more minutes of action, but the Terror lost anyway.

Bob Orton, Kansas City, won an unpopular decision over Hagen in their match, resorting to his unorthodox style of roughing it up. Hagen took the opening fall in 12 minutes and 21 seconds with a series of drop kicks and body press.

The second went to Orton using his "pile driver" and body press style in 13 minutes and 34 seconds. The third fall went to Orton on default when Hagen couldn't answer the bell because of the terrific beating Orton had given him on his head. The fans were ragged and Hagen likewise was out of sorts making threats of wanting to meet Orton outside. It became white hot and Orton followed Hagen to his dressing room and crashed open the door, but was restrained by the appearance of the Athletic Commission Inspector, Promoter Gust Karras and others.

On agreement the two were asked to return two weeks from Tuesday, Hagen gladly accepted while Orton remarked "Why?" After some discussion with the blonde roughneck, he agreed. This match will top the bill on March 26.

Lorraine Johnson, known as the "Tigress" from Red Wing, Minn., defeated Alice Nobel, Lincoln, Neb., in the opening event. Miss Johnson took the first fall with a series of knee-lifts and press in 11 minutes and 49 seconds. Miss Nobel using a rolling headscissors and body press took the second in five minutes and 45 seconds. The third ended in seven minutes and 35 seconds with Miss Johnson using the knee-lift and press again.

As their House colleagues had contended in lining up almost solidly against the House-passed resolution, the GOP senators said that "the appropriation of funds for federal government activities is the constitutional responsibility of Congress."

Eisenhower has said that it is Congress' duty to cut his budget if it can, and he is expected to ignore yesterday's House action, which has no force of law.

The House resolution, supported by 209 Democrats and 10 Republicans, said cuts must be made "in the public interest." It requested Eisenhower to "indicate the places and amounts in his budget where he thinks reductions may best be made."

Against the measure were 3 Democrats and 175 Republicans. Some of the latter accused the Democrats of "back passing."

Final passage came after 160-142 rejection of a Republican substitute by Rep. Gubser of California. He proposed commending Eisenhower and Budget Director Brundage for their request to government agencies to review their BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—What does a fellow have to do to make a major league manager happy?

All Henry Louis Aaron did in 1956 for the Milwaukee Braves was hit .328—good enough for the National League batting championship—play 153 games, compile 200 base hits including 34 doubles, 14 triples and 26 home runs. He drove in 92 runs.

But his manager, Fred Haney, believes Aaron was far from his peak.

"He's a .350 hitter at least," Haney said Tuesday before the Braves met the Detroit Tigers in an exhibition contest at Bradenton. "He's only 23 years old and he has a long way to go."

Aaron made the jump to the major leagues in 1954 direct from class A ball. In his first season he batted .280. The following year his average increased to .314; he more than doubled his home run production and hiked his runs batted in by 37.

"Still a growing boy," said Haney. "No telling how good he'll get."

Michigan State's assistant wrestling coach Gale Mikles won the NCAA 155-pound wrestling title in 1947.

Mrs. Patricia Keller McCormick, 1936 Olympic and National AAU diving champion, won 27 diving crowns during her career.

Dave Beck Declines to Say Whether He's a Millionaire

SEATTLE (AP)—Is Dave Beck a millionaire, as he oft-times has been described?

The Teamsters Union president wouldn't say yes and he wouldn't say no to newsmen here last night.

"It's as easy to say Beck is a millionaire as it is to say he has $200," said the voluble

Export Marts In Europe Are Thinning

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The rich vein of export markets that some American manufacturers mined in West Europe at the end of the war is running thin.

Germans and other Western Europeans—fitted out with American machinery and machine tools under the Marshall Plan and other aid programs—today are making more than ever of these capital goods for themselves.

The industrial boom over there has made them self-reliant, although there is still a market for many things the United States makes best and only currency restrictions hold down the demand for American consumer goods.

American tool makers complain that the lower European wage scales put U.S. manufacturers at a disadvantage—not only in Europe but in the world markets where both compete, such as Latin America. Lower prices, easier credit terms and a driving sales campaign have helped Europeans sell their stuff abroad.

But total exports of U.S. goods to Europe, including farm commodities and industrial raw materials such as oil and coal, continue to rise. And as a group the Western European nations are still America's top market.

U.S. government figures put exports in general to Europe last year at nearly $4 billion dollars, one fourth higher than in 1955. European dependencies took another $67 million dollars worth, a gain of 28 per cent.

Canada is the second biggest market—and the largest for a single nation—with U.S. exports to it totaling more than four billion.

Latin-American countries took $3 billion dollars worth of our manufactured goods, farm products and industrial materials.

Total American exports to the world markets continue high—the Census Bureau reports that this January they were 32 per cent higher than in the previous year.

Farm exports in the seven months from July 1 to Jan. 31 were up 45 per cent in dollar value from the like period in the preceding year, and up 51 per cent in quantity.

Kansas City Voters Reject Earnings Tax By Big Majority

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kansas City voters rejected by an overwhelming margin yesterday a proposed one per cent earnings tax.

Complete, unofficial returns from the city's 250 polling places showed 80,233 votes against the proposed tax, to only 20,841 for it—a margin of almost 4-to-1.

Mayor H. Roe Bartle and the city council submitted the tax proposal to the voters in the form of an amendment to the city charter. Both residents and non-residents would have had to pay the tax, with a $1,000 exemption granted to individuals and businesses. Business houses would have been subject to the tax on their net earnings.

City officials claimed that the estimated seven million dollars which would have resulted from the tax was necessary to improve city services and finance new civic projects. A "Committee of 1,000" led the fight for the bill.

Active opposition to the measure was led by the Tax Equity Assn., and the AFL-CIO. Opponents argued the tax would place an unfair burden on small wage earners.

Ex-Utah Governor Will Renew Fight Against Income Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Republican Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah, new national chairman of For America, says he will expand his campaign against the federal income tax.

Reorganization of For America with Lee in the new post was announced yesterday. Lee said he will stump the country speaking for repeal of the income tax and against "reckless spending and extravagant waste."

Attacking both major political parties at a press conference, Lee said a third party of conservatives may develop if Democrats and Republicans don't give the people "a choice."

Lee attracted national attention when he refused to pay a part of his 1955 income tax and the government collected by slapping liens on his bank account. Lee said yesterday he had been challenging the government's right to tax people to aid foreign nations, but the Supreme Court "threw my case out."

For America was organized in 1954 to fight what its founders called "superinternationalism" and seek "a return to constitutional government."

No Laughing Matter
PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Truck drivers on the Naval Air Station roads must keep their tailgates closed—and maybe go easy on the humor.

AFLOAT AGAIN—The USS Constitution, second oldest U.S. warship, floats again as it is waved into the Naval Shipyard drydock at Boston, Mass. Famed as "Old Ironsides," the three-masted frigate, built in 1799, was docked for an inspection of underwater timbers.

Over-40-Inch Club Marches Into Battle

LONDON (AP)—A group of British girls who measure more than 40 inches around the chest have banded together in an effort to solve their growing problems.

"We plan to write to clothes manufacturers and put forward our troubles," pretty brunette Lee Anderson (41-23-37) said today.

Applicants for membership in the Over 40 Inch Club must only pass the tape measure test.

"I have a 40-23-36 figure," sighed Marypey Browne, organizer of the club, "and manufacturers just do not cater to girls like me."

She explained that despite that "over 40" in the club's name, precisely 40-inch bosoms are also eligible for membership.

"Unfortunately," she added, "we can't lower our standards and take in the 39s. But their problems are not as great as ours. Lots of clothes makers think about the 39s."

"Clothes which do fit us are too motherly for teen-agers, and if you want to get the perfect fit you have to pay the earth."

"Swim suits and underwear are also a headache," chimed in Joy Adams (41½-26-38).

"Most of the bras that fit me are pink satin and strictly for matrons."

Joy said garments designed for the over 40s are for older women with figures as generous around the waist as round the chest: "Sack-like effects on us."

President Anderson reported subjects other than clothes came up at the organizational meeting—wolf whistles, for one thing.

"We don't really mind them," said Joyce Gardiner. "What girl would? But they can get monotonous and at times embarrassing. However, we took no action."

Did you know that girls with handicaps, even very severe ones, can belong to Girl Scout troops? The first Girl Scout troops for girls with handicaps were started in 1917, when two troops for the blind and one for the deaf were established.

RHEUMATISM

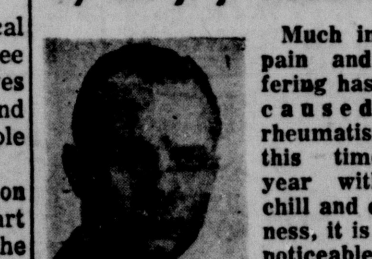

By Dr. J. J. Rodewald

Much intense pain and suffering has been caused by rheumatism. At this time of year with its chill and dampness, it is more noticeable.

Rheumatism is a general term applied to pain regardless of its location in the body, and is often named according to its location. It is called lumbago if it affects the lower part of the spine, sciatica if affecting the nerves in the leg, neuralgia if it affects the nerves of the skin and so forth.

Nerve irritation accompanied by an over-abundance of toxin in the body is the cause of rheumatism. Focal infections such as abscessed teeth help to form more toxin; however, toxin in the body merely aggravates an already irritated nerve and causes more pain.

The primary cause of nerve irritation is usually found in the spine and must be removed to get permanent relief. Phone 392 for an appointment.

Rift Appears Among White Council Heads

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The Florida Legislative Committee neared the end today of hearings which created a split in the leadership of the Seaboard White Citizens Council.

Robert W. Saunders of Tampa, field secretary in Florida for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, is to testify about records and files from his office.

Fred Hockett, a founder of the Seaboard White Citizens Council of Washington, split yesterday with the organization's executive secretary, John Kasper.

Hockett had listened while Kasper admitted mingling socially with Negroes in New York until a year and a half ago.

Hockett, 51-year-old carpenter organizing segregation groups in Fort Lauderdale and Miami, said he thought Kasper was "doing more to hurt segregationist organizations in Florida than anything else."

Kasper, who with Hockett, George Fleming and Edgar Johnson formed the Seaboard White Citizens Council, was a key figure in the racial disorders of last fall at Clinton, Tenn.

Kasper, making a speaking tour of Florida, had been scheduled to talk here Saturday night. But he said yesterday he would not appear and hadn't decided on his future plans.

Hampton E. Shaver, 47-year-old Miami baker, told the committee yesterday he was held at gunpoint all day Monday by two white men he did not know. He said the men left him on a highway near Tallahassee after beating him. He appeared before the committee with slight bruises and a skinned patch under one eye.

Physical Exam For Ike Shows Improvement

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new physical examination at Walter Reed Army Hospital shows President Eisenhower's condition is "improved," the White House doctor says.

But he still has not recovered completely from a cough, a head cold and an ear ailment, and so he "still hopes and expects" to get away to Florida later in the week in an effort to clear up those troubles. The ailments were described as "slight."

That was the gist of reports from Eisenhower's physician Maj. Gen. Howard Mcc. Snyder and his press secretary James C. Hagerty after the President returned from an hour's checkup at Walter Reed yesterday.

It was his second visit to the hospital in less than a month. He went there Feb. 21 for a checkup on a lingering cough, the aftermath of a cold which Snyder said he caught in January.

Last week, with the cough still hanging on, Eisenhower developed a new head cold and inflammation of the eustachian tube in the left ear. The ear trouble made it temporarily difficult for him to hear.

The new checkup included X-rays, which Hagerty said showed the chest and lungs are clear.

Thinks Inquiry May Reveal Any Mideast Policy Mistakes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said today that a forthcoming Senate inquiry may determine whether "serious mistakes" in policy helped precipitate the Middle East crisis.

Fulbright is chairman of a subcommittee set up recently by the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees to collect data from the State Department as the basis of a review of Middle East policy extending back to January, 1946.

Fulbright has contended that the Eisenhower administration had no firm policy in that area, and said that situation helped cause the crisis.

His demand for a "white paper" from Secretary of State Dulles during hearings on the Middle East resolution set the stage for the study.

Republicans went along in the unanimous vote which approved it only after Fulbright's resolution was broadened to include a look into developments under the previous Truman democratic administration.

The Fulbright subcommittee, made up of three democrats and three republicans, is limited in its function to assembling data and progress reports from the State Department and conferring with its officials on the material to be assembled.

Other members are Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) and GOP senators Wiley (Wis.) and Saltonstall (Mass.) and Democratic senators Mansfield (Mont.) and Byrd (Va.).

The subcommittee's decisions are subject to review by the two committees under which it functions.

Day of Prayer Is Observed By WSCS

The Longwood Methodist WSCS met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Raymond Hurt to observe the World Day of Prayer. Mrs. Hurt assisted by Mrs. Tom Harvey was the leader.

Mrs. John Greer conducted a short business meeting. Reports were given by Miss Mattie Ezell and Mrs. Harvey. Mrs. Greer concluded the Bible study of "Paul's Letters." A discussion followed on the books of Thessalonians and Philippians.

The April meeting will be with Mrs. Harvey.

And the parent committees will decide whether to conduct hearings, and the extent to which they may be open.

The State department has been asked to supply a detailed chronological statement together with classified and unclassified telegrams, memoranda and other papers bearing on events leading up to last year's invasion of Egyptian territory by Israel, Britain and France.

Mild Weather Prevails Over Most of Nation

There were a few chilly spots but generally mild weather prevailed in most of the nation today, one week before the arrival of the spring season.

Only light precipitation in scattered areas were reported during the night. However, dust storms struck sections of the plains and into the Mississippi Valley again yesterday.

Although a little cool air moved into the Ohio Valley and south-day lifted clouds of dust in the Mississippi Valley and eastern Texas, southern and central plains cut temperatures generally were in the 40s and 50s.

The gusty winds which yesterday

Accept New
Clark Soybean
In Missouri

By L. F. WILLIAMS
MU Research Associate in Field Crops

The Clark soybean, released to seed growers in 1953 by the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station, has been rapidly accepted by growers. It is now the most widely distributed variety in the state and the only one recommended in all counties. In northern and central Missouri, where it is a late to medium late maturing variety, Clark is the only variety of its maturity which has been able to yield as well as the early varieties in recent years with late summer drouths. It has the highest average five-year yield in this part of the state. Clark is able to equal or exceed the early varieties in drouth years and outyield everything in good years.

Clark has also shown remarkably wide adaptation in date of planting. In five years of testing at Columbia, Clark has the highest average yield at every date of planting from April 15 to July 15 and is recommended for early and late plantings as well as mid-season.

In addition to being a high yielder, Clark has good seed quality, resistance to shattering, and good combining qualities.

For an early variety in this central area, Harosoy has been replacing much Hawkeye. Harosoy is higher yielding but under high temperatures the seed quality is unsatisfactory. Adams has had the best seed quality of the early beans but is not as widely adapted as Harosoy and Hawkeye and is very sensitive to early plantings. Adams should not be planted until June first. All of the early varieties—Harosoy, Hawkeye, Adams and Lincoln—have higher average yields and much better seed quality from June plantings than from May plantings.

The new variety Chippewa, released in the northern states, has yielded satisfactorily for its early maturity and holds its seed very well but has not yielded enough to compete with recommended varieties.

In southeastern Missouri, Clark

END OF RUN—The Boeing 707, America's first jet airliner, prepares to unload its passengers at Friendship International Airport at Baltimore, Md. after a 3 hour and 52 minutes flight from Seattle. It's official time—based on when it crossed the airport—was not immediately announced.

has yielded better than Perry and Wabash and is now the recommended early variety for that area. Its good seed quality, resistance to shattering, and ability to stand early planting are particularly important to southern growers.

Dorman continues to be the most important mid-season variety for southeastern Missouri. It has excellent seed quality and holds its seed well but sometimes lodges badly.

Ogden, the full season variety for this area, and Dortchsoy 2, a selection from Ogden, have not performed well during recent drouth years and their green seed is a disadvantage. Lee was placed on the recommended list for extreme southeast Missouri last year to help fill the need for a late yellow soybean. Lee is later than Ogden and will be frosted occasionally but it has a good seed quality, holds its seed very well, and is resistant to several leaf spot diseases. Lee has averaged about the same yield as Ogden.

For complete information on variety recommendations ask your county agent for a copy of folder 51 "Recommended Crop Varieties for Missouri in 1957."

Fails to Leave Pay
After Filling Tank

STUART, Okla. (AP) — A local service station operator is looking for a thoughtful man who put everything back in its place.

Apparently low on gas the stranger tried to phone both of the town's gas station operators early in the morning. When neither answered, he drove to the nearest station, broke the glass door, unlocked the gas pump, filled his gas tank and then locked the pump and returned the key. But he failed to leave any money.

Wins Custody of Dog
In Divorce Suit

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A blue chip French poodle named Brandy who dabbles in the stock market has been made the pawn in a divorce case.

His mistress, Mrs. June Garrett Modglin, won his custody from N. Kent Modglin, Culver City, Calif., garbage disposal manufacturer.

The poodle with the boodle has an account in a Beverly Hills brokerage house, Mrs. Modglin told Superior Judge Edward R. Brand. She said Brandy receives cards from family friends on all holidays "and each one contains money." She said the dog had made $1,500 on recent investments.

She won custody of Brandy and also gets $4,500 cash under a property settlement.

MU Extension Service
Publishes Bulletin

The Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station has published a new bulletin entitled, "The Story of Research Behind Corn." The bulletin tells what researchers are doing to improve corn — a quarter billion dollar crop in Missouri.

This research covers studies in the field of soil fertility, plant breeding, crop rotation, drouth and other weather hazards, insects and diseases and weed control.

The bulletin brings out that yields are now obtained that were thought impossible ten years ago. Many soils are now producing higher yields than they were when first brought into cultivation.

Also, corn has long been considered a soil depleting crop. Recent studies indicate a lack of good management rather than characteristics of the crop itself are the primary cause for corn cropped soils running down.

The authors of the bulletin point out that high yields are important, but even more important is economy of production.

This bulletin should prove valuable to anyone interested in corn.

Missourians Are Qualified For Exchange

The National 4-H Club Foundation, Silver Spring, Md., has accepted the qualifications of all six Missouri International Farm Youth Exchange candidates for 1957. Because of the troubled world situation, they have been assigned on a tentative basis.

Dorothea Ann Drane is scheduled to go to Denmark for the summer phase of the IFYE program. Miss Drane is from Boone County. She is majoring in Home Economics at the University of Missouri.

Rodney Garnett, Cole County, is scheduled for Norway in the summer phase of the program. Garnett is enrolled in the University of Missouri, majoring in dairy husbandry. Mary Johanning from Howard County goes to Luxembourg for the summer phase of the IFYE program. She is presently working as a bookkeeper in Glasgow, Mo.

Richard Taylor is scheduled for Switzerland in the summer phase. Taylor is from Shelby County and is studying for a Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture at the University of Missouri.

William Waller, Buchanan County, is slated for a visit to Argentina in the winter phase of the IFYE program. Waller is working toward a Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture at the University of Missouri.

Cleo Dean Kottwitz from Maries County goes to Brazil for the summer phase of the International Farm Youth Exchange program. Kottwitz, too, is studying agriculture at the University of Missouri. Cleo Dean Kottwitz is the state IFYE delegate for 1957 because he was selected by the 800 4-H'ers who attended State Club Week last June. Each state club week delegate gave one dollar to provide for Kottwitz's expenses as an IFYE delegate.

The other Missouri IFYE delegates were selected from applications sent in to the State 4-H Staff. They were selected on the basis of personality, maturity, ambition, and desire to visit other countries. 4-H record and participation were considered but are not necessary for qualification. However, all of the 1957 delegates are or have been 4-H'ers.

The 4-H clubs in Shelby, Cole, Boone, Howard, and Buchanan Counties are now raising the $600 required of each county to meet some of the expenses of their respective IFYE delegates. The National 4-H Club Foundation will provide for the remainder of their expenses. The National 4-H Club Foundation operates on money donated by 4-H clubs from all over the United States and that donated by organizations, business and industry.

Since Missouri has six outgoing IFYE delegates, twelve incoming delegates, youths from other countries, will live and work with Missouri farm families this year. They usually live with a family for one month. Since each IFYE delegate visits for three months, each one will live with three families, making a total of 36 host families needed for this year's incoming IFYE's.

The Girl Scout and Girl Guide organizations in 35 countries around the world work together through the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts to which they all belong. Regardless of differences of language, religion, and cultural patterns, members of all these organizations observe the same Scout laws and use the trefoil emblem.

Big Hog Crop Brings Doubt About Market

By J. W. REYNOLDS
MU Extension Livestock Marketing Specialist

The big livestock marketing question being asked is this—are hog farmers going to over-do an increase in production in the coming months? And, what will butchers be selling for by the end of 1957? What prices should farmers use in planning their hog production program for the coming year?

It seems that with hogs, we are always going from one extreme to another—too many or too few. Two years ago hog prices were around $22. As a result pig crops were increased to the point that we had a market glut during late 1955 and early 1956. This caused a $10 hog market. The result was a sharp cut-back in production—too sharp—and in January of this year we saw $20 hogs again. From most country reports, these recent prices have stirred up enough interest to have caused more breeding for late spring and summer farrowing than had been expected earlier. Farmers who said they wouldn't raise another hog a year ago, this year have been paying $80 for bred gilts.

The last pig crop report as of Dec. 1 showed that producers intended to reduce this spring's pig crop by two per cent. At that time the hog-corn ratio was at 11.8, or 10-12 per cent below the long-time average of 13.3. In the next two months we saw the ratio increase to 14.6, or about 10 per cent above the long-time average. In other words, in January, hogs were 24 per cent higher in relation to corn than they were two months earlier at the time of the pig crop report. It is fairly clear that more late spring and summer pigs will be raised this year than in 1956. This would see hog production increasing after going down for only one year.

Less Talking For Ike

The country is not going to fall apart if President Eisenhower is given a leave of absence from repeated demands upon the use of his vocal cords in television appearances, press conferences, social activities, etc.

Right now the President's health is a matter of intense concern to millions of people at home and abroad. He can't shake off the racking cough he developed on inauguration day, and it's wearing him down. Vice-President Nixon and Secretary Dulles are away, so the President is trying to hold up his end without the support he ought to have.

This devotion to conversational duty is commendable, but just the same we'd like to see that Ike is required to do less talking. The doctors call his ailment tracheitis — inflammation of a section of the windpipe below the voice box. Whether it's virus or bacterial, exhaustive tests are in order to determine the fact. Rest is deemed the most effective cure, and that means chiefly freedom from the necessity of constant talking — the inevitable burden of a chief executive.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Twining to Head Joint Chiefs of Staff

WASHINGTON—The joint Chiefs of Staff were quietly called to the White House last week and officially notified that their next chairman would be Gen. Nathan Twining, now the Air Force Chief.

Inside fact is that Twining had recommended his deputy, Gen. Thomas White, for the chairmanship, but the President persuaded Twining to take it himself rather than retire. White probably will replace Twining as Air Force Chief of Staff.

Originally, Secretary of Defense Wilson wanted to reappoint Adm. Arthur Radford, present chairman, to a third term, but crusty Congressman Carl Vinson of Georgia, chairman of the House Armed Services committee, threatened to block Radford. Vinson told Wilson bluntly it was the Air Force's turn to take the chairmanship. Radford, he said, should step down.

Art and Communism

Rep. Herbert Scudder (R., Calif.) showed concern the other day about a proposal of two Democratic Congressmen to have the commission on fine arts approve all designs for federal buildings.

Scudder was worried about "Communist" murals, and though reassured by Rep. Henry Reuss (D., Wis.), he was still skeptical. "In this planning, I hope you do not desire to have artists get into the picture who will do what they did during the last 20 years. That is, decorate the walls with murals which are very obnoxious to the people in the area."

"In the Rincon Annex post office in San Francisco, it was the policy to paint murals. I had these murals very carefully analyzed by a cartoonist, and part of them was definitely Communist propaganda."

"I am glad that the gentleman from California raised that question," said Reuss, who with Rep. Frank Thompson (D., N.J.) is co-sponsoring the proposal for fine arts commission approval.

"Let me assure him that the chairman of the commission on fine arts is none other than Mr. David Finley, who was Mr. Andrew Mellon's lawyer and confidential adviser for many years. He generally shares the political and social philosophy of the late and revered Andrew Mellon."

Oil Break for Democrat — The big Republican oil companies are getting some nice breaks from the Eisenhower administration, but at least one Democrat is doing all right too. Ed Pauley, close friend and big money raiser for Harry Truman, has secured a guarantee from the U.S. government that his losses will be reimbursed up to $6,000,000 if he drills for oil in the shaky kingdom of Jordan, and if Jordan should later expropriate his oil wells. This is about the first time in history an American oil man has secured such a guarantee—especially a Democrat from a Republican administration.

Two Air Force Secretaries — Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, first secretary of the Air Force, made a strange phone call the other day.

Whether it's virus or bacterial, exhaustive tests are in order to determine the fact. Rest is deemed the most effective cure, and that means chiefly freedom from the necessity of constant talking — the inevitable burden of a chief executive.

Whatever is needed for the President, a sunny clime, the dry southwest, let him take off immediately and be excused temporarily from those "talking" conferences, social chit-chats, which have been wearing him down.

If that means bringing Nixon and Dulles home on the earliest flight available, let it be done. Africa and Australia will keep.

He called the present secretary of the Air Force, Donald Quarles, told him he was planning to make a Senate speech blasting Quarles, then proceeded to read the speech to his intended victim. Quarles argued with Symington over some details and finally persuaded him to tone down the speech. However, Symington still delivered the speech, accusing Quarles of using phony arithmetic in the Air Force budget.

Future Excise Taxes — GOP leaders have advised Ike that Congress will probably repeal the 10 per cent excise tax on theatre tickets, effective April 1 of next year. House hearings will begin in about a month on the repealer bill, which also may knock out 10 per cent excises on cosmetics, toilet articles, and transportation. Small-town theatres hard hit by TV competition are particularly in need of tax relief, the President was told. He said, however, he could not agree to any tax cuts in 1958 until he had an estimate of next year's budget.

Merry-Go-Round

Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin wasn't the only lawmaker who failed to attend the White House reception for Congress. McCarthy wasn't invited. But Roy Wier (D., Minn.), who did receive an invitation, declined in favor of a conservation meeting. He attended the North American Wildlife conference. . . Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts, featured on the cover of Life this week, has been quietly lining up speaking engagements around the South which turned against catholic Al Smith in '28. (Looks as if the 1960 campaign has already started.) . . . Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has been secretly phoning key Republicans in Congress, trying to block an investigation of the government's monetary policies. The Treasury is now paying twice as much interest on government loans as under Truman. An investigation might be a bit embarrassing.

Guest Editorial—

FRANKFORT (Ky.) STATE JOURNAL: Prior Restraint. — A Florida newspaper editor has put his finger on the key to the danger in government behind a veil of secrecy. He says that politicians are developing a philosophy asserting that decisions of government should be made without "the prior restraint of an informed public opinion."

This meaningful phrase occurred in a statement by V. M. Newton, editor of the Tampa Tribune and chairman of the Sigma Delta Chi committee on freedom of information. It goes to the heart of the trouble. "The politician," said Newton, "has managed to drape a 'paper curtain' of secrecy around large segments of free American government." The exact extent to which this has occurred is debatable. The danger of the practice, so far as the people are concerned, is scarcely open to question.

Whenever possible, the public should know what decisions are pending. Otherwise, "the prior restraint of an informed public opinion" cannot operate.

Dulles Should Inspect Poland Again

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — It may be time for Secretary of State Dulles to take a new look at the Polish Communist government. Months ago in a classified letter never made public he told Congress Poland now is not Soviet-dominated.

In last October's upheaval in Poland the Stalinists in control of the government were thrown out and Wladyslaw Gomulka, a Communist jailed for years as a "Titoist" by Stalin, was made boss of the Communist party.

Since then his government has shown signs — although there have been reasons for skepticism — of being independent of Moscow. And several weeks ago it sent a delegation to Washington to ask for American economic help.

Dulles' letter was sent to the House Foreign Affairs Committee weeks before the delegation arrived. Between that time and now most of his attention has been concentrated on the Middle East and getting the Israelis out of Egypt.

But on March 10 the New York Times carried a story from Warsaw which said almost all the leaders of the Stalinist faction which fought Gomulka's return to power have now been reinstated in government jobs.

As a result, the story said, there is a feeling of bewilderment in Poland over the Polish Communists' tactics. And students have posted signs asking: "Are these changes of jobs or of policy?"

There can be no doubt of the desire among Poles — 90 per cent of whom are Roman Catholic — for independence from Moscow.

What isn't known is this: Was the party shift-around in October

College Play Director Has Trouble With Cast

CALDWELL, Idaho (AP)—Director John Sollers had so much trouble, because of illnesses and scholastic difficulties, in filling out the cast for the College of Idaho production of "Ten Little Indians" that he tapped a freshman, Lenn Messman, for the part of a young British speed demon.

Then Messman went to see the movie "Anastasia" — and showed up for rehearsal the next day with a Yul Brynner haircut.

Sollers is now wondering whether to order a toupee for the freshman, or start holding tryouts for the part again.

The Christian Man

By Eugene Carson Blake, D.D.
And the devil took him up, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time, and said to him, "To you I will give all this authority and this glory; for it has been delivered to me, and I give it to whom I will. If you, then, will worship me, it shall all be yours." And Jesus answered him, "It is written, 'You shall worship the Lord your God, and Him only shall you serve.'" Luke 4:5-8.

RSV.

Almost all Americans, except the Communists, agree that the state is organized to serve the interests of man; that individual man is always to be considered as more important and of more ultimate value than his nation. In fact, one of our basic contentions against all totalitarianism is that the individual man is deprived of his rightful freedom and his rightful responsibility.

Despite this agreement there is, among us in our time, the ancient temptation to idolatry — to make the nation our supreme value and to worship it in the place of God. A lively faith in God, who is above appears to be the only way to assure both patriotism and individual liberty.

The forty days of Lent leading up to Easter in the Christian calendar, have often been related to the 40 days of Jesus' temptation in the wilderness. One of the temptations which he faced had to do precisely with the relationship of God and the nations.

In his parable, Jesus tells of Satan offering him the power and the glory of all the nations of the earth if only he would bow down before Satan in worship. Jesus' reply was to remind the prince of this world that there is only One to whom ultimate loyalty is due — God.

In the recent revision of the pledge to the flag the words "under God" were added so that it now reads: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands — one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Some have criticized this change as merely a pious addition which, they say, serves only to increase our confusion of religion and patriotism, leading people to suppose that Americanism and Christianity are, after all, the same thing.

For myself I believe, on the contrary, that whatever were the mixed motives of some of those who voted to insert the words, it is a good thing to be reminded regularly that the nation is under God. It is good to remember that God is over all nations and that His children are in them all.

At this time of great power for the American nation, all of us need to remember that, although we have been greatly blessed in this good land, God is just and will play no favorites. Selfishness, however much enlightened, will lead us to the decadent luxury that has been the downfall of empires in the past. For God has founded the world on justice and His kingdom is a kingdom of love.

Next: Man and his community.

The Mature Parent—

Why Father Has Become 'The Forgotten Man'

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

In the approximately 400,000 divorces which will be granted this year in this country, custody of children will be given to mothers in virtually every case.

Is this custom of automatically handing children over to mothers just another indication of the low esteem in which we hold fathers?

Reporter Howard Whitman thinks so. In a study titled "Father — The Forgotten Man" which he prepared for the Kirkbride Fund for Research in Psychiatry, he writes: "The beating down of father has penetrated our courts in a vital sector. In the frightful business of divorce, the tendency to underrate father, to treat him as though the child had hardly any need of him has become dangerously commonplace."

This is true. But our new contemptuousness for fathers goes back beyond divorced parents' arrangements for care of children. It reaches back to their disappointment in marriage; and back to that to what they thought marriage was.

When we get there, we find that they thought it was a private contract to provide each other with sexual satisfaction and the thrills of romantic love. It is in this widespread refusal to recognize marriage as a primarily social contract that lies the real cause of fathers' new unimportance.

Fathers make society. They are the parents who have traditionally explained it to children. They teach them how to get along in it and help them locate their own places in it.

When marriage is viewed as a purely private arrangement instead of a serious social one that affects many people, fathers' prestige as social teachers at once begins to shrink. In a home founded on the instabilities of mere personal feelings, fathers' masculine sense of law and order simply can not function. Their usefulness to children dies with begetting them just like that of drones in the sticky-sweet matriarchy of the beehive.

So what I find of top interest in Howard Whitman's interesting study is this statement: "A man and a woman entering marriage make a moral compact with life and with God to care for the fruit of their union."

When we recover from our spoiled view of marriage as a private affair and know it again as a public one, fathers will at once recover their great dignity as leaders of families. They are public people and the managers of public affairs.

A Safe Safe
BENTON, Ky. (AP) — The Bank of Mapshall County was extra safe.

Employees of the bank tried to open the 85-year-old safe and failed. Experts gave up in disgust. A welder was called to haul the 4 ton monster down to his shop. Several hours later, with the help of an electric torch, the bank recovered its ready cash — $43,000.

Ruth Millett Says

Marriage Won't Change A Man's Ways Completely

Wives are always deciding that if a husband loved them, he wouldn't do this or he would do that.

But love doesn't change a person's character or personality to such an extent that he changes all his habits and ways of thinking. A lazy, young man doesn't become ambitious, hard worker just because he takes a wife. He may talk big when he is trying to win a girl but after marriage he'll settle down into being himself.

A self-centered, selfish man doesn't change completely into a thoughtful, considerate husband just because he loves the woman he married. If he has always thought first of himself, the habit isn't likely to change.

A man who can't resist a pretty face won't suddenly become blind to other women's attractions simply because he has a pretty wife at home. He may be true to her for the rest of his life but he isn't going to wear blinders to keep from taking a second look at a pretty girl.

He won't change for love. A quick-tempered, irritable man isn't going to suddenly turn into a calm, deliberate person simply because life would run smoother for his wife if he could learn to take things as they come. However much he loves her, he isn't likely to change disposition to make her happy.

That is why any girl who is thinking of marrying ought to be sure she wants to take him "as is" and hope for the miracle of love to change him.

'Learn to Earn' Project

Dramatize Possibilities For Jobless Older Women

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Uncle Sam is looking at older women. Mature women are looking younger and living longer, but they still find it difficult to grab a husband or a good job.

Just as there is a prejudice against an older woman marrying a young man (although the reverse seems to be just dandy) so is there a resistance against hiring the older woman, even if she's capable and more reliable than the twenty-year olds.

This just doesn't make sense to Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, director of the Women's Bureau, Département of Labor, who is trying a new approach to dramatize the job possibilities for the woman over 45. (The marriage possibility isn't government business.)

Federal Aid-to-Mature-Women,

as Dr. Leopold prescribes, is aimed at both the employer and the employee. At the Main Street level, she brings the two together in day-long "learn to earn" meetings, sponsored by local women's clubs.

Typical was the recent Washington meeting.

A banker, a department store executive, a hotel manager, a restaurant owner, a hospital official told what openings were available to the hundreds of gray-haired jobless women in the crowded YWCA auditorium.

Four older women-with-jobs told how they had conquered age, no experience and prejudice.

The woman who liked to sew: Needed money but couldn't leave her children so became a fine seamstress at home by getting professional help in nearby high school. Big problem . . . selling her husband, who missed the apple pie she doesn't now have time to bake.

The widow, after 27 years of homemaking, who was "a born nurse": Although too old to be a registered, trained nurse, she took enough training in practical nursing at the public school and landed a job helping the aged patients at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Biggest problem: Not taking the advice of her well meaning friends who wanted her "to take any old job" her husband's death whether she liked it or not.

The Chinese woman, who wanted to send her son to college: Took English and typing courses and so impressed the Board of Education, she stayed on as a secretary. Biggest problem: learning to speak English.

The woman who had a dull job: To get a job dealing with people not machines she spent 5 months in free training in Hannah Harrison School and now is assistant superintendent at a Presbyterian Home. Biggest problem: "Finding a job where I gave the orders and ran things as I did in my own home." The first two "Learn to Earn" sessions were held in Boston and Baltimore.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

The miracles of Christ still amaze those who read the Bible, but miracles have come to be taken for granted. God still performs miracles as surprising as those performed nearly two thousand years ago.

Men have been used in order to bring about some of our modern miracles. Other miracles take place with little, if any, human effort. We now take miracles for granted. We call them "chance" or "luck" or "mutations." We expect that something "unusual" will happen.

When Jesus was on earth and in human form, the masses gave Him the credit for miracles. They believed that God altered the blueprint of everyday occurrence. They praised Him and worshipped Him.

Today we ought also to praise God for modern miracles, and for the order of the universe which in itself is miraculous.

Using Quality Seed Gives Best Money Returns

The use of good seed of the best variety can give higher returns for the money spent than almost any other farm practice, say Ross Fleetwood and Bill Murphy, University of Missouri extension field crops specialists.

Present high production costs make it more necessary than ever that the seed be the best available, they say. Increased use of fertilizer promotes weed growth as well as crop growth.

Thus, high - quality, re-cleaned, weed-free, high - germinating seed is all important. The difference in acre cost between low-quality and pure, high-quality seed is small.

As a guide for Missouri farmers

Murphy and Fleetwood have prepared a listing of recommended crop varieties. This listing "Recommended Crop Varieties for Missouri 1957," is available free of charge at local county extension offices.

In the Extension Service publication, the two field crops specialists list suitable corn hybrids and varieties of corn, cotton, sorghums, sudan grass, soybeans, oats, barley, wheat, rye, tobacco, grasses, legumes millet, rice, rape, and other crops for production in Missouri.

To get the most from their crops Murphy and Fleetwood suggest that farmers drop in their county agent's office and pick up a copy of the listing. Ask for Folder 51, "Recommended Crop Varieties for Missouri 1957."

Terraces Need Proper Up keep To Work Well

Terraces make the most money when they are properly planned, properly built, and then well maintained, says Marion Clark, University of Missouri extension agricultural engineer.

After several severe dry years, many terraces and outlets haven't been kept up well. This means they aren't in good condition to stand hard rains that might fall this spring.

Following dry years, soil always moves easier and there is less cover to bind it together or hold it in place. So, terraces have the extra burden of handling more than the usual soil movement along with the

Judge Drops Charge, Youth Joins Guard

PITTSBURGH (AP)—James Kendall, 18, has a clear police record today and the National Guard has a new recruit.

When Kendall was arraigned on a charge of stealing an auto owned by M. Sgt. Joseph Sinwell of the National Guard, the sergeant told Judge William F. Cercone, "This boy wants to join the National Guard and I want to help him." Judge Cercone dismissed the charge and Kendall joined the Guard. He will serve under Sinwell.

water load, Clark points out.

Any spare time this winter can be profitably spent checking any washes in terrace outlets or any bare spots that will become washes during the first hard rains. The whole outlet should be fertilized this winter with a well - balanced fertilizer broadcast on top.

Small bare patches or washes can be patched with sod from the side berms or a nearby field. Water can be temporarily diverted around these patches to keep them from washing out until they are well rooted.

Terraces can be checked for low spots in the ridge as well as in the channel, the engineer says. If they have been allowed to work down too much or were not well built originally, a few rounds with a blade or a light push with a dozer may be desirable to put them back in dependable condition.

Asian-African Bloc Has Become Influential in UN

By MAX HARRELSON UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—

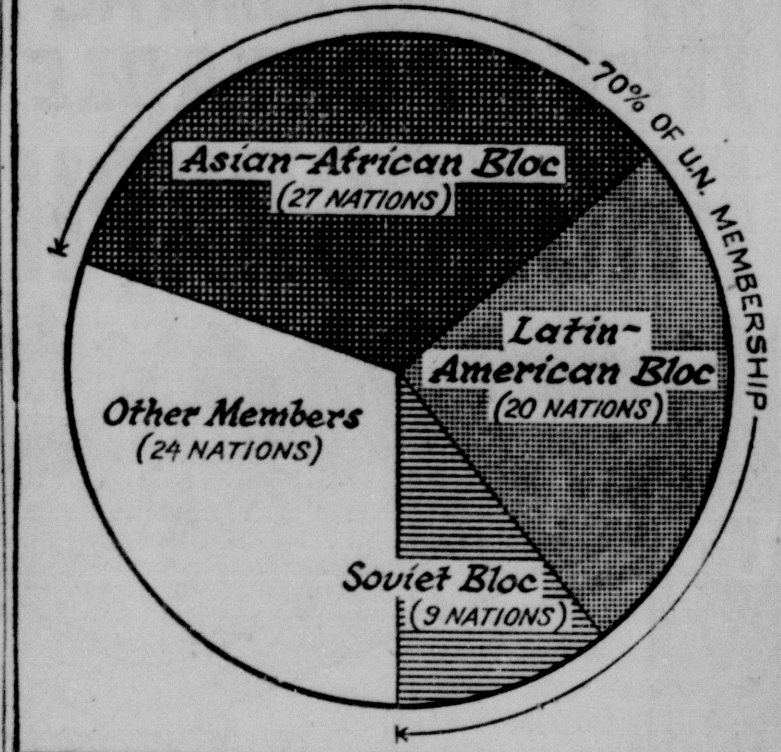

One of the most significant developments in the United Nations is the emergence of the Asian-African bloc as a powerful, closely-knit operating unit.

This comparative newcomer is not only the United Nations' largest organized bloc — or group, as its members prefer to call it—but in 1955. The Arabs had met informally with a few Asian countries as early as 1950, but the actual organization of a bloc—with a monthly rotating chairmanship — is a comparatively recent development. Originally the group had only 17 members, but it added six in 1955 and four more in 1956.

Major Blocs in the United Nations

it also is the most active and the most influential.

It includes 27 countries, one-third of the 90 U. N. members. When it presents a solid front as it often does, it can play a decisive role on any world issue. During the Middle East crisis, the group has acted as a unit consistently.

The Asian-African group furthermore is the only U. N. bloc which has any prospect for immediate expansion.

The 20-nation Latin American group, once the largest in the United Nations, has not increased its membership since the world organization was formed with 51 members.

The other major group — the nine-member Soviet bloc — added four new members in 1955, but the admission of any new Communist countries does not appear imminent, although there are several candidates. These include Outer Mongolia, North Korea, North Vietnam and Red China.

The Asian-African group is expected to get one new member in September — the new country of Ghana in West Africa. Other prospective members in the near future are Nigeria, Somaliland, Malaya.

While the Latin American and Soviet blocs have been active since the beginning of the United Nations, the Asian-African group was non-existent as an organized unit until after the Bandung Conference requirements, are not members of the Asian-African bloc. They were automatically excluded since neither had been present at Bandung and attendance there was made a condition for membership in the group.

The Soviet bloc is the only one which always votes as a unit. Both the Latin American and Asian-African groups seek to agree on major issues, but each member is free to vote as it chooses.

On some issues, particularly so-called Cold War questions, the Asian-African group is split with some supporting the West and some abstaining. Only now and then does the Soviet bloc gain any affirmative support from the group.

The Asian-Africans, on the other hand, usually get the support of the Communists and the Latin Americans on colonial issues. And this presents a combination which is giving the colonial powers a bad time in the United Nations.

One big group of U. N. members still remains unorganized — the non - Communist countries of Europe. Occasionally, these meet informally — as do the British Commonwealth countries and other smaller groups — but they have no formal arrangements or organization.

The United States also remains outside any bloc.

Buzzing Session Saved

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Aldermen of the Town Board were spared when they assembled in the City Hall Council Chamber. Only one buzzing was present at the meeting.

Groggy and harmless, it was the lone survivor of a vast insect carnage that occurred two hours earlier when the city clerk discovered the chamber was filled with a horde of wasps that entered via a lowered window.

Hal Boyle's Column

Modern Day Prices Effect Rate for Human Body, Too

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That you are worth more now than you were 20 years ago—the chemical elements in the human body would fetch slightly more than a dollar at present commercial prices, as compared with about 87 cents then.

That the reason "the little red schoolhouse" of yore was always painted red was—that color paint was the cheapest.

That Denise Lor, the TV singer, says she knows of a married wolf who won't wear a wedding ring for fear it would stop his circulation.

That the reason sleeping birds don't fall off their tree perches is simple—nature endowed them with a toe grip that automatically locks around a twig.

That there are 500 or more different kinds of flying bats in the world.

That the most outrageous pun of the year is a sign in a subway station snack shop window: "What foods these morsels be."

That people who advise you, "Don't take any wooden nickels," probably don't realize a rare old wooden nickel today is worth more than a real metal one.

That, although a nickel seems to buy fewer things every year, the U. S. government Printing Office will still take one in exchange for a copy of President Eisenhower's second inaugural address.

That Dixie singer Jane Pickens and her hubby, who have a yacht named "Cotton" that carries a lifeboat called "Cotton Boll," now are adding a glass-bottom boat to be known as "Boll Weevil."

That malaria, regarded by some scientists as the greatest single menace to mankind's health, causes an annual death toll of 2½ million among its 200 million victims throughout the world.

That Alexander the Great probably died not from drinking too much wine but from the bite of a malarial mosquito. And Cleopatra slept under a mosquito net to protect her beauty from insect stings.

That mules are immune to malaria, and in some countries are put out as live bait to draw the disease-carrying mosquitos.

That a statistician has figured the hot dogs eaten by the average American in a single year, if stood end to end, would make a column 21 feet 3 inches tall.

That three out of four American homes now have electric toasters, more than 90 per cent have electric irons, 60 per cent have vacuum cleaners.

That khaki, first worn by U. S. soldiers in the Spanish-American War, comes from the Hindu word "khak" meaning "earth" or "dust." And every ex-infantryman will agree they picked the right word.

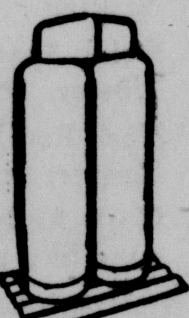

That sanitary people who want jewelry untouched by human hand intact in oysters vacuum-packed in a can.

That if America's 100-billion-dollar annual tax bill were distributed equally among the nation's 170 million people, it wouldn't be enough for a baby to be born with a silver spoon in his mouth. He'd have to arrive with $600 between his gums—or start life owing money.

That it was Col. Adolphus Busch who best defined the hidden woes of wealth by observing, "You can only drink 30 or 40 glasses of beer a day, no matter how rich you are."
